A Sister Group To APhiO Organized Here Wednesday

One hundred and twenty-eight women enrolled as members in the newly-organized sister organization to Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, at their first meeting Wednesday night. Besides the enrollment of members, the election of a chairman and of a steering committee was held.

Kaye Metz was elected chairman of the steering committee and is composed of Elizabeth Ayers and Nancy Brown, senior representatives; Helen Harned and Nancy Campbell, junior representatives; Barbara Roberts and Sally Moran, sophomore representatives; and Doris Pitts, Shirley Rogers, Joan Hiser, and Carol McInerney, freshman representatives.

The steering committee plans to meet Wednesday night, Oct. 21, to study a constitution, set up tentative projects, list suitable names for the organization, make plans for the future, suggest advisers, and plan the next meeting.

The next general meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 28, at 7 p.m. at a location to be announced later. The election of permanent officers will be held at this meeting, along with the discussion of steering committee suggestions. It will still be possible to join the organization at the next meeting but it is required that members have formerly, at one time, been either girl scouts or campfire girls.

Tentatively the new sister organization will adopt the same fields of service as A Phi O. These include service to the student body and faculty, to the youth and the community, to members of the fraternity, and to the nation as participating citizens. The sister group will definitely aid A Phi O with such projects as the blood bank and the book store, and will adopt useful projects of their own.

It is thought that this is the first organization of its kind in the nation. Raymond Bertelson, Alpha Phi Omega president who attended the initial meeting, stated, "This organization has unlimited possibilities. The enthusiasm shown proves to me that there is a definite need and want for such a group as this on campus."

Sororities Sponsor Freshman Visit

Freshman women will have an opportunity to visit the 11 sorority houses Sunday at Panhellenic Day. There will be two sections. One will visit the houses from 1 to 5 p.m.; the other, from 6 to 10 p.m.

Each sorority is furnishing two guides. From Alpha Chi Omega are Jan Nowak and Donna Rossbach; Alpha Delta Pi, Inga Harmon and Marge Weber; Alpha Gamma Delta, Joyce Ludecker, and Joan Falkner; Alpha Phi, Joann Schroeder and Nancy Hartwig; Alpha Xi Delta, Patricia Lash and Joan Dunlop; Chi Omega, Barb Jisa and Min Karras; Delta Gamma, Ann Bartles and Joyce Shields; Delta Zeta, Helen Harned and Helen Long; Gamma Phi Beta, Marge Patterson and Nancy Gebhardt; Kappa Delta, Janice Crouch and Patricia Scott; and Phi Mu, Percy Chirngas and Bea Young.

There will be additional registration for Panhellenic Day from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday in the Well.

'Sorry Wrong Number' First One Act Play

"Sorry Wrong Number" directed by Noel Greenhill and "Hamburgers" directed by Robert Stager will be the first one act plays of the season.

The cast for "Sorry Wrong Number" includes Shirley Lewis, Lee Meadows, Suzanne Souder, Joy Morris, Nancy Turner, Dolores Kolthoff, Mike Reilly, and Don Noland.

Both plays will be presented Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the Gate Theatre.

James Mainous, Gene Rucker, Thomas Chestnutwood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Liedtke, Mike Reilly, and Jim Hersh make up the cast for "Hamburgers".

Green Sends Daley Petition To Justices

A petition to throw out the appointments by Student Senate to University committees was turned over to Student Court by Senate President Charles Green, Monday night. He questioned the validity of it and requested that the court render a decision as to whether it met the proper requirements of a petition.

The petition was introduced by Senator Richard Daley near the close of the meeting and was signed by 53 students. It objected to the action taken by the Senate in determining the 27 student members of the student-faculty Senate constitution which says that "a class or other student organization" must present the petition if it feels that "action prejudicial to its interest" has been taken by Senate. The document was signed by members of all academic classes.

Daley countered by arguing that the constitution fails to define either "class" or "student organization." He pointed out that a contemporary dictionary definition of "class" is "all those with a common interest." The disagreement was presented to Student Court yesterday and the case will be heard next Thursday.

Earlier in the meeting, a committee to investigate other plans for selecting members of the University committees was approved. Jerry Helwig was named chairman with Daley, Robert Bostick, Carol Payne, and Roger Kasten as members. Nancy Brown will serve as an ex officio member. A plan from Daley suggesting a new method for choosing these groups was delegated to the committee for study. Daniel Baker, Brown, and Bostick were elected by their fellow senators to the reviewing committee.

Helwig, chief justice of Student Court, resigned from his Senate seat because of increasing responsibilities on the court. This increases the number of senators to be elected at the all-campus election on Oct. 21, to five, three upperclassmen and the two freshmen. A by-law was passed concerning the freshman senators which provides that they be elected before mid-term in order to bring Senate up to full membership.

Court Fines Violators; Helwig Heads Justices

Student Court has been dealing with car rule violations on the campus during the past several weeks. Sixteen students pleaded guilty to parking in assigned areas and were fined $1 each. They were: Leland Fuller, Clinton McFarland, Donald Dunham, Marilyn West, Kenneth Dearth, Oswald Rava, Douglas Michael, James Grimm, Jack Hecker, John Kenlon, Roger Immel, Thomas Glenon, Robert Coswall, Merlin Emch, and John McNutt.

Pleading guilty to driving on campus without stickers were William Bradshaw (failure to display decal), Gary DeWalt, Gilbert Weber, David Freedheim, and Baydon Fisher. They were also assessed a $1 fine.

In cases which were appealed to court, Douglas Fay and Kirt Rockel were found not guilty. Richard King, Donald Noland, and Peter Hoffman were each fined $1 for parking in assigned areas. Thomas Benke and Richard Shaw were each fined $25 for non-registration of cars.

DG, Alpha Xi Ball Game Today; All-Campus Carnival Tomorrow

Money Raised To Help Tuberculosis

An all-campus carnival is scheduled for Saturday evening in the Men's Gym to raise contributions for the charity drive. Twenty-five concession booths will be arranged for student participation. These booths are sponsored by campus dormitories, and fraternity and sorority houses.

Proceedings begin at 8 o'clock and money raised here will be used specifically to benefit TB patients. The annual ugly man and ugly woman contest will also be staged at this time. Students may receive prizes at the numerous booths which will conduct contests in shaving balloons, sinking basketball shots, and pitching pennies.

Three trophies will be awarded during the evening for the outstanding booth, best poster in the charity drive, and to the outstanding student collector of the drive. Judges for these awards will be Mr. Homer Evans, director of Wood County Welfare Department; Mr. Carl H. Schwyn, president of Schwyn Theaters Incorporated; and Mr. Paul W. Jones, managing editor of the Bowling Green Sentinel Tribune.

27 New Members Approved By Senate For Committees

Appointment of 27 students to the reorganized University Committees were approved by a majority of Student Senate at the meeting Monday. These students will meet with faculty members on 10 of the 12 University groups to determine the policy and function of the committee. Appointments to the Social Student Employment committees were withheld until Monday.

The nominations were introduced by Charles Green, Senate president, and then discussed and voted on by the senators. Richard Daley objected to the method of selection and he abstained from all participation in the voting.

William Bittner, Roger Kasten, and George Guffey will comprise the student membership of the Activity Fee Committee. Charles Jacobs and Carol Payne were named to the Alumni Relations Committee. The Artists Series group includes Thomas Dunford, Mary Jeanne Connolly, and James Stockton. Howard Beplat and Barbara Jisa will meet with the Athletic Committee.

The scheduling of high school scholarship tests necessitated a new University committee composed of Ellyn Bowen, Donald Brenner, Robert Capps, Gladys Frederking, and Benjamin Litherland. Music Activities will be coordinated by Richard Payne, Winifred Hartzell, and Andrea Robbins. Mary Anna Scott was appointed to the Library Committee.

David Freedheim and Sydna Howard were named to the Radio Advisory group. Gretchen Van Brunt, Lois Diehl, and Brad Greenberg will serve on the Student Publications Committee. James Liedtke, Janine Veselius, and Elaine Stansbury comprise the student representatives on Speech Activities.

In addition to the Social and Student Employment committees, four other openings exist because of insufficient nominations. A sophomore is needed for Athletics, a senior for Alumni Relations, a junior for Library, and a sophomore for Radio Advisory. Eligible students with an active interest in these groups may contact a senator. A minimum 2.8 cumulative point average is necessary.

Preparing posters for their booth for the annual Charity Drive Carnival Saturday night are Judy Kohring, Sally Halford, Wavalee Lusher, Barbara Donnelly, and Jane Rettig.

Bloodmobile Schedules First Visit To Campus

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit the campus Tuesday, Oct. 27 for the first of two visits planned for the year. The other will be held Dec. 7.

Parental release and donor forms have been placed in all residence houses and halls by Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, sponsor of the visits. Additional forms may be obtained in health and physical education classes. Signers will be notified by mail of appointment time.

Donations will be taken in the Rec Hall between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on the scheduled dates. The goal for each visit is 125 pints. A total of 1,020 pints have been contributed during the past two years.

These visits are joint enterprises of the faculty, employees, their families, and students of the University. Those of adult age may make appointments by signing a blood donor form. A new form is required for each donation. Students under 21 years old must have a parent or guardian sign a release form giving permission to donate.

The University committee consists of Russell Coffey, chairman; Samuel Cooper, John Bunn, Stuart Givens, and Gertrude Eppler. The A Phi O committee is James Haskins, chairman; Jack Moffatt, Kay Dickerson, Charles Williams, and Ronald Elserling.

Students View Debate At Speech Convention

Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, assistant professor of speech, has announced that 10 students will attend the fall meeting of the Ohio Association of College Teachers of Speech, at Ohio State University, Columbus, Saturday, Oct. 17.

Students will witness a demonstration debate between Case Institute of Technology and Ohio Wesleyan University in the morning. The debate will be judged, and then the audience will criticize the judges with the idea of improving the standards of debate judging.

In the afternoon, Dr. Kleckner, who is vice-president of the association, will lead a discussion group which will discuss, "How Can We Improve Judging in Oratory, Extemporaneous Speaking, and Interpretive Reading?"

More than 100 teachers of speech, representing 30 colleges in Ohio are expected to attend.

Students from Bowling Green who will attend are: Nancy Copeland, Noel Greenhill, Betty Idle, Roger Kasten, Dale Lee, Delores Lehman, Michael Riley, Dan Simon, Shirley Ann Sparr, and Bud Weckesser.

Psych Member Learns Spanish At Chile U.

Serving on the staff of the psychology department as an intern instructor this year, is William F. Eicker, a graduate of Berea College, Berea, Ky.; and Ohio State University.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Mr. Eicker attended Berea College for one semester. He then received a scholarship from the University of Chile at Santiago, granting him a year of free study there.

He sailed to Chile with the merchant marines, going through the Panama Canal and down along the Pacific coast of South America. He played in the band at the University of Chile to help defray his extra expenses.

Mr. Eicker did not know the Spanish language when he entered the University, and it took him approximately six months to learn it. Because his classes were conducted in Spanish and his texts were also in Spanish, he was exempted from taking all tests and examinations his first semester. The year did not count toward an academic degree. He was majoring in political science at the time.

Upon his return from Chile, Mr. Eicker spent three more years at Berea College as a psychology major. He took his final semester of academic work at the University of California. His B. A. degree was granted by Berea College.

Mr. Eicker spent a year in California as a pharmaceutical salesman. He began his graduate work in psychology at Ohio State in September, 1952, and received his M. A. degree there in August.

Now, as an intern instructor, he is teaching four sections of psychology 101, and one course of psychology 102.

Next year, he intends to begin work on his Ph. D. degree, but has not decided which university he will choose.

Pay Telephones Installed In Dorms

The coin type telephone has been eliminated in the larger dormitories and in the Nest, according to John Bunn, director of residential and plant operations.

In its place the Telephone Company, under the direction of the Public Utilities Commission, has installed the nickel phones.

Formerly local calls could be made without cost. It is still possible to use the office phone in the dormitories without charge for local calls but on all other floors pay phones have been installed.

Teams To Meet For Polio Fund

Alpha Xi Delta and Delta Gamma sororities meet for the fourth annual Powder Bowl touch football game at 4 p.m. this afternoon on the Lab School field in conjunction with the Chest Drive. Men's rules will be used in the game.

Connie Wood and Mary Lewis are captains of the DG team which won last year's contest 12-0. Coaching the team are John Gee and Richard Thomas. The Alpha Xi team will be captained by Shirley Ziemann and Carol Shedd, with Thomas Bassett and Jack McDonauld acting as coaches.

As an added attraction, King Puff and his two attendants will be honored at halftime. King Puff is to receive a laurel of powder puffs and his two attendants will each receive a bouquet of puffs. Each fraternity submits a candidate for King Puff and the two sororities vote on the winner.

Also during halftime, free-will offering will be taken for the Polio Fund by the members of the two sororities.

Phi Kappa Psi will award a trophy to the captain of the winning team, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will present a trophy to the outstanding player.

The two sororities will furnish entertainment at halftime. Bleachers will be set up on either side of the field.

Men Predominate Here This Year

The registrar's office has announced that there is an increase in enrollment this year at the University, but that it is not as great as many people have thought.

The total enrollment at Bowling Green this fall is 3,221, as compared with 3,201 at this time last year.

"There are two main factors to which the increase in enrollment can be attributed," stated Registrar Glenn I. Van Wormer. "A larger number of Korean veterans than we had anticipated have enrolled, and the retention of students in the junior and senior years is substantially higher than it has been in years."

Mr. Van Wormer stated that "the freshman class of 1,095 students is the largest we have had since the overflow of veterans following World War II. The increase, however, was expected, and plans were made to accommodate them."

The men and women ratio this year is almost even with the men slightly in predominance — 1,699 to 1,522.

There are 121 transfer students from other colleges and universities as compared to the total of 96 last fall.

Trends in enrollment this fall show that among the 53 major fields of study at BGUSU, elementary education and general business lead in student selection. Women are in the majority among those enrolled in elementary education and men have the majority in business administration.

Illegal Cars Found In Lots Will Be Tagged

Student car owners are reminded that cars found parked in frozen areas of parking lots will have their cars tagged and a fine assessed by the Student Court.

The front row in the parking lot parallel to stadium field is an open lot and can be used for parking purposes by any student. The back, or north row along the fence is a frozen area and should be used only by students assigned to it. This back row is marked and can easily be identified as a frozen area.

Petition Tests Senate

Taking a new lease on life this year, Student Senate has been doing a fine job of accepting the responsibilities given it. It has been given the power by President McDonald to choose student members of the newly-established University committees. Conscious of this responsibility which it had been given, Senate proceeded to choose these persons for those committees in what, at the time, seemed the best method of those suggested.

The assembly mulled over the list of 402 eligible students and cast a preliminary vote. A second vote followed to narrow nominations to a handful of students. Letters were sent to these remaining nominees in order to get the student's choice of participation. Monday night two committees were not appointed because of lack of applications. Many eligible students failed to reply for any committee.

It was at Monday's meeting—in the final stages of committee selection—that a petition was presented protesting the "action of Senate" in this matter. The petition was signed by 53 members of the student body. Because the Senate constitution says an action must be considered prejudicial to the interests of a "class or student organization," Senate president Charles Green referred the petition to Student Court on question of its validity. The case was presented yesterday and will be heard next week.

A more important question for interpretation, in our mind, is the phrase "action of Senate." Senate has taken several actions in selecting these people, but it would seem two definite ones are involved here.

The first is the original academic limitations of a 2.8 average set by President McDonald in giving this job to Senate, a limitation over which Senate had no control. He set this grade limitation for several reasons. He could as easily have decided to handle the entire matter of committee appointments himself, but he chose to delegate this power to Student Senate.

It is easy to play Monday morning quarterback and point out the many weaknesses of the present system of choosing these committee persons. Senators themselves are very dissatisfied with the system, which proved to be tedious and disorganized. Realizing this, a Senate committee to study the problem and present a workable plan for future use was set up Monday night. A plan, proposed at the meeting, was given to this group for its consideration.

Time was of importance to Senate in deciding upon a system to use, and in getting it into operation. When the school year began, no students were on University committees. Senate had to act quickly but carefully in order to have a student voice on these committees.

Student Senate has found itself faced with a new responsibility and a completely new situation. Any proposals for doing the job could have been presented several weeks ago when they were needed, and new suggestions are certainly in order for future use.

This attempt to stop the entire procedure in its final stage looks like "sabotage" to us. Even if meant in the best interests of improving Senate, it certainly came at the wrong time. Holding up Senate's appointments to these committees now will prevent students from having a voice in University committees for some time.

If it appears that Student Senate cannot adequately handle the responsibility of this job, or possibly any other powers given to it, these powers may be revoked. Such a move as this petition, coming at the time it has, could set all recent progress of Senate back several years.

On With The Shows

Newspaper critics from Toledo are disturbed because Bowling Green picked the Men's Gymnasium as a site for the opera "Il Trovatore." The setting, according to these critics, wasn't good enough for an opera.

The Artist Series Committee fully recognizes that a gymnasium isn't the ideal place to hold an opera. However they also realize that by presenting Artist Series programs in the gymnasium they are enabling many who might never have the chance again to enjoy the finer arts. Since the Main Auditorium only seats 1170 it is not possible to use it for Artist Series events without turning away many folks who would like to attend the programs. The gymnasium, on the other hand, can seat over 2,000 and is the only suitable place to hold programs where large crowds are anticipated.

For some reason these critics seem to believe that it is necessary for a person to "choke" himself in order to enjoy an opera. They imply that an opera should be presented in a spacious playhouse, and watched only by the socially elite. This premise seems to be causing quite a bit of trouble lately. Helen Traubel recently quit the Metropolitan Opera Company because her manager forbade her to sing in nightclubs.

One critic stated that the Charles L. Wagner group was forced to present its opera on an improvised stage of pine scantlings. Little did he know that the pine scantling stage used in all of Bowling Green's Artist Series programs is the very latest in style, and is highly recommended for use as a portable stage. He also implied that the absence of a curtain detracted from the beauty of the opera. We would also like to point out that this is being done more and more around the country. In fact the Cleveland Playhouse has converted a church to a theater with an arena type stage and no curtain.

This critic also said he feared that the stage would sag under the troupe. If he was bothered last Sunday he should have seen the "Tyrolers" perform last year.

The Shady Corner

The wolf and the stork usually work in the same neighborhood.

"What are the names of your four children, Mandy?"

"Eenie, Meenie, Minie, and Henry."

"Why did you name the youngest one Henry?"

"Cause we don't want no Mo."

Douglas Stars In DP Feature Made In Israel

By RON RITTER

The Lyric Theater continues this weekend with its new policy of showing outstanding films with a picture equally as good as last week's successful "The Happy Time." The movie this week end is "The Juggler," and it stars Kirk Douglas in the role of Hans Miller, a once famous music hall entertainer.

The entire movie was made on location in Israel. It shows the beautiful countryside of Israel from the port of Haifa to the farms of Nazareth and Galilee.

Douglas has the part of a man who has become psychologically unbalanced as the result of having his wife and children killed in a Nazi concentration camp. He is a displaced person who goes to Israel in 1949, where his unreasoned fears lead him to strike a policeman when he is asked for identification papers. Thinking the policeman is dead, Douglas runs away in panic across the country until he finds physical and emotional peace of mind on a Kibbutz (a collective farm.)

A strong performance is given by Douglas as the man of torment. The rest of the cast which is led by Joey Walsh as the orphan boy who leads Douglas across Israel, and Milly Vitale, as an attractive worker on the Kibbutz, is excellent.

"The Juggler" is produced by Stanley Kramer, who has built a national reputation as a producer of great films, among them, "The Happy Time." The movie is taken from the book of the same name written by Michael Blankfort.

The Cla-Zel Theater will show "Blowing Wild" beginning Sunday. The film stars Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Ruth Roman, and Anthony Quinn. There is background music in the film sung by Frankie Laine, much in the same manner as was done in the academy award winner "High Noon."

Students, Faculty Visit College Unions

An advisory committee of both faculty and students has been created to analyze the needs and activities of the campus in regard to the proposed University Student Union. This group will visit four student unions this semester and study the facilities in operation at the universities. The first trip will be to Kent State yesterday.

The committee, which consists of three administrative officers, three faculty members, and nine students, has been divided into five subcommittees for more extensive research in particular activities of the unions. Chairmen of these smaller groups are faculty and administrative members.

Studying food service are John W. Bunn, director of residential and plant operations, Robert Bostick, and Charles Green. Recreational activities will be surveyed by Gertrude Eppler, associate professor of health and physical education, David Freedheim and Jacquelyn Gribbons. Stuart Givens, coordinator of student activities, Jerry Helwig, and Mary Jane Gustin will analyze student activities. The fourth group, service areas includes Florence Currier, dean of women, Raymond Bertelsen, and Marjorie Ewing. Income producing rooms will be studied by Elden Smith, speech department chairman, Joyce Crede, and F. E. Beatty, assistant to the President. Mr. Beatty is general chairman of the entire committee. Pres. Ralph W. McDonald is also a member of the group.

After visits to Ohio University on Nov. 13 and 14, Ball State on Nov. 21, and Ohio State University on Dec. 5, the five subcommittees will submit final reports to President McDonald as a basis upon which to plan the University Union.

Inquiring Reporter

A University committee is investigating smoking situations in women's dorms. As it is, women are not allowed to smoke in their rooms, while their male contemporaries may. Women must take time out to visit the dormitory smoker whenever they want to smoke. This makes for distraction and inconvenience, it would seem. But how do the women feel about it?

"I hope the present ruling is abolished," says Anne Bartles, Delta Gamma junior. "Smoking in dormitory rooms won't hurt and will save time for study. You won't have to run downstairs everytime you want to smoke a cigaret."

Anne Bartles — Judy Stanfield

"I'm against girls smoking in their rooms," says Judy Stanfield, sophomore at Williams. "After a while, your clothes take on a smokey odor. Besides, it's not really too far to a smoker for considerate people."

Jean West, Phi Mu junior, feels differently. "It's too dangerous to smoke in rooms," she says. "It is a fire hazard because most people are forgetful and careless. Besides, good places for smoking have already been designated."

Sally Halford — Jean West

Sally Halford, Alpha Phi senior, feels it is dangerous. "It is unfair to abstainers," she argues.

"It's all right," says Jean Perloni, Alpha Chi Omega sophomore, as long as smokers are careful. Some people can study better when they smoke, and having to trot to a smoker is an inconvenience. Besides, smokers are distracting because of the temptation to socialize."

Anne Alfrey — Jean Perloni

"I don't smoke," says Anne Alfrey, freshman at Shatzel, "but it doesn't bother me, unless the room becomes much too smokey."

FROM THE DOCKET

With the assessing of fines for violations of car rules as its main item of business, the University's Student Court is back in operation under the leadership of Jerry Helwig, chief justice. Members of the court, in addition to Helwig, are: Mona Middleton, Shirley Chance, Susan Digby, and Samuel Martin, all associates justices. Dr. Russell B. Decker, associate professor of business administration, is faculty adviser of the group. The court meets at 4 p. m. every Thursday in the Student Center.

One thing the Student Court wishes to stress is that students must register their cars if they intend to drive on campus. Many are violating this university regulation at the present time. Minimum fine for this violation is $25.

"I think girls should be allowed to smoke in their rooms," says Mackie Grasinger, freshman at Kohl Hall. It's silly to have to interrupt your studies to smoke. You can study better when you smoke, and it's very relaxing.

Faith Johnson — Mackie Grasinger

Though a smoker herself, Faith Johnson, Delta Gamma senior, is against smoking in rooms. "Rooms are generally too small and get stuffy quite easily. And it is a hazard, especially if the building is not in very good condition. Finally, it is a matter of courtesy to do one's smoking in a room set aside for just that."

Song Concert Set For Faculty Monday

Bowling Green Faculty Concert Series will begin Monday evening, Oct. 19, at 8:15, in the auditorium of the PA Bldg. Helen DeJager, pianist, and Joseph Himmel, baritone, will present a song recital.

The program will be devoted to songs of Mozart and Beethoven, the large cycle for voice and piano, "La Bonne Chanson" by Gabriel Faure, and songs by the contemporary Finnish composer, Yrjo Kilpinen.

Helen DeJager is a musical product of Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., and a former student of Robert Casadesu and Ernst Rosenberg. The Eastman school has honored her by granting her its highest award, the Artists' Diploma, making her the recipient of the third such honor in the history of the school.

In recent years she has appeared as recitalist throughout the eastern and midwestern states.

Mr. Himmel received his musical education at Northwestern University, the State Conservatory of Munich, Germany, the University of Montreal, and as a student of Alexander Kipnis and Gerhard Huesch.

The program is free to the public.

The Administration Building, first building to be completed on campus, opened in 1915.

OFFICIAL Announcements

Students applying for entrance to the 1954 medical school classes, who have not already taken the Medical College Admission test, should apply for the Nov. 2 test. Application forms for this examination can be obtained from your adviser.

Additional changes of phone numbers on campus not included on the list appearing in an earlier issue of the B-G News are Theta Chi, 37465; Delta Zeta, 37562; Stadium Club, 7387; 2nd Floor Shatzel, 7236. The News Bureau has been moved from its former location to 115A, and now shares the phone used by the Office of Alumni Affairs. The number is 37873.

The names of Homecoming Queen candidates must be submitted at the Student Center by 5 p. m. today.

Two pictures of each queen candidate must be submitted in the Student Center office of Stuart Givens, coordinator of student activities, by 5 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 20. The required pictures are one 8x10" glossy photograph and one 5x10" dull finish photograph.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Last issue, the B-G News ran an article entitled "Is Eighteen Years Old Enough to Vote"? I was personally glad to see the sentiment for 18 outnumbered that for 21 by 5 to 1. Take a look at the youth in most states who has just turned 18. Of course the law says he can't vote, drink, nor does his name have any legal bearing on contracts; the law says they are not mature enough.

However, the law does seem to think that this same person is mature enough to go out and work their tail off, fight and perhaps die for their country, and pay income taxes.

Many people maintain that such rights as the aforementioned should be reserved to persons 21 years old. These people maintain that persons 18 are not old enough or mature. In answer to this I would like to make a simple statement which everyone knows and no one can deny. Some people never grow up no matter how old they get. And 3 years isn't going to make that much difference one way or the other.

I am myself a writer for this paper; my main field is sports and not current issues or political science, but I would like to introduce what in my humble opinion would be 3 satisfactory alternatives: 1. Either make a law that no persons would be subject to income taxes nor forced into armed service unless they are 21 years of age. 2. Lower the voting and drinking age to 18. 3. Let all service men, regardless of age, enjoy the same rights and privileges as adults.

Bill McIntire

Dear Editor:

On Tuesday, Oct. 27, the Red Cross Bloodmobile will again visit our campus. Parental release forms have been distributed to all the dorms for those wishing to contribute blood to this worthy cause.

We, the members of A Phi O, are appealing to each student who is physically able, to support this program, remembering that his pint of blood might save the life of a wounded soldier, a mother in childbirth, or some accident victim. What do you say, gang? Let's make this a record visit for the Red Cross.

Falcons Expected To Use Air Attack

By BOB SHAW

Bowling Green's Falcons will be going after victory number two of the current season when they tangle with the Yellow Jackets of Baldwin-Wallace Saturday afternoon in Berea.

Both teams will be going into the game with identical one win and three loss records. Baldwin Wallace's lone victory came at the hands of Morris Harvey College of Charleston, W. Va., two weeks ago by a score of 38-14. The Falcons won their first game last week as they opened their '53 home season with a 39-13 victory over Bradley.

In their last outing, a week ago tonight, the Yellow Jackets put on a determined fourth quarter drive scoring two touchdowns, but fell one point short as they lost to Kent State 14-13 in a thriller.

B-W Backfield Dynamo

The Baldwin-Wallace attack is being led by two able quarterbacks, Dick Miller and Karl Justus. Both are considered fine passers. Most of the ground gaining is done by fullback Jim Tyree, 165-pound tricky speedster from Akron, and halfback George Riley, from Newark.

Two key B-W players have been lost for the season. Second-string fullback Ralph Young suffered a dislocated ankle, putting him out of action for the remainder of the season. Veteran right guard Lou Ciancutti played his last game for the Yellow Jackets. One of the best and most experienced linemen on the squad the New Kensington senior left for military service last week.

Bowling Green, on the other hand, should be up for the game physically with the possible exception of John Ladd, the hard-running fullback, who has been nursing injuries. Ladd is expected to see plenty of action however.

BG's Pitching Connects

The Falcons can be expected to fill the air with passes come Saturday, as they finally got their aerial attack into high gear against Bradley last week. Quarterbacks Bill Bradshaw and Jim Bryan connected on 13 of 21 attempted passes good for 292 yards and five touchdowns.

Jim Ladd, BG's big end, leads all Mid-American Conference opponents in individual pass receiving with a four-game total of 231 yards and 16 catches. Bill Bradshaw also tops the passers with a total of 372 yards and four touchdowns, for a .476 average.

The game Saturday, which is not a conference game, will mark the seventeenth meeting between the two schools. Bowling Green won last year's game 27-19. The series now stands at four wins for BG, nine for B-W, and three ties.

WBGU Sports Staff Named By Stone; 2 To Handle A Game

Sidney Stone, director of station WBGU, has announced the station's sports staff for this year. The major portion of the staff's work will include coverage of all home football games.

Members of the staff are Fred Meeks, Jim Shepherd, David Friedman, David Forseman, and Don Friar. Game assignments were not announced. The announcers will alternate two to each game, one doing the play-by-play description, the other doing the color. These announcers will be aided by radio aspirants who will act as "spotters."

"Color" is the word describing the incidental information used to fill in the game lapses. The job of a "spotter" is to get the number of the players involved in each play and inform the announcer as to who made what play.

Freshmen Footballers Face New Problem With One-Platoon System

Bowling Green's freshman football team, which opened its season Thursday against the Toledo University frosh, has come up against a new problem caused by the return of the one-platoon system to college football.

With only 16 practice sessions before the opener, Coach Forrest Creason and his charges find they have been pressed for time to prepare themselves, especially offensively. Most of the team's practice hours have been spent on defense in scrimmages with the varsity squad.

With the two-platoon system, practices could be held with the separate offensive and defensive teams playing against each other. That way both varsity teams could work at the same time.

This season the same 11 men must play both offense and defense, so when the varsity runs plays in scrimmage, the freshman team works as the defensive unit.

Punch In Backfield

All of which should make the '53 frosh squad exceptional on defense but somewhat questionable on offense in the early stages of the season.

New Tennis Club Setup Inaugrated

As a result of the large turnout last week for the women's Tennis Club tryouts, a new setup has been inaugurated this term, Miss Mary Spooner of the physical education department, announced.

Some of the women who did not make the club were invited to join the newly organized Paddlesters, which is a junior varsity team of the group. The Tennis Club members will act as big sisters to the Paddlesters and help them improve their game so they can eventually join the club.

Also newly formed is the Tennis Club Instruction Class for beginners. These women will also be instructed by Tennis Club members.

New Tennis Club members are: Elma Cochran, Barbara Eyre, Nancy Rasmussen, Alice Wojton, Eleanor Wilt.

Intramurals Set For Cross Country

The intramural cross-country race has been re-scheduled for Oct. 29 at 4:15 p.m. Any fraternity or independent group wishing to do so may enter a team consisting of three men.

More men may enter, but only the first three will be considered in the scoring.

In order to be eligible for the meet, a man must have had four official practice sessions. A man will be on hand at the track each day from 4 to 5:30 to check attendance.

Entries so far include Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Sigma Chi and MIS are also expected to enter the race.

fense but somewhat questionable on offense in the early stages of the season.

As Coach Creason put it, "With one-platoon football, we have only half as much time to work on out attack, and since we spend so much time scrimmaging the varsity, we have even less. But I expect the squad to come around in time."

Physically, the squad is a good one, with a crop of big strapping linemen and plenty of punch in the backfield.

Line Averages 197

The starting line, which averages 197 pounds from end to end, is made up of John Colvin, 6 foot 2 inch, 240-pound left end—he also doubles on tackle; Bill Havens, 6 foot, 207-pound left tackle; Jim Wilson, 6 foot, 200-pound left guard; Gene Dotson, 6 foot, 190-pound center; Kirk Fowler, 5 foot 9 inch, 185 pound right guard; Tim Murnen, 6 foot 1 inch, 196-pound right tackle; and Tom Frail, 5 foot 10 inch, 160-pound right end.

Double-Dual Cross Country Meet Set

Dave Matthews and his Falcon cross-country team will entertain Loyola of Chicago and Wayne University in a double-dual meet here tomorrow.

Wayne handed the Bowling Green squad its only defeat last year, 26-29. This year could be a different story however since the Falcons have 5 lettermen returning in Marvin Crosten, Dean Marr, Walt Duricy, Ray Bertelsen, and Hilliard Roane.

Wayne has only one of last year's letter winners back. Three other prospects who ran last year did not return to the team for various reasons.

Morgan, who ran tenth on the squad last year, is now running second. Sarver is the only other returning squad member and ran in the last position last season.

Greeks Begin Football Season

The inter-fraternity touch football season got under way this week with games in League II Monday and League I on Wednesday. The Greek's play every Monday and Wednesday on the practice field behind the stadium at 4:15.

In Monday's games, last year's champions, Sigma Chi trounced Alpha Tau Omega 20-0; Delta Upsilon downed Phi Kappa Psi 14-0; and Pi Kappa defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon 12-6.

In the League I game played Wednesday, Sigma Nu trounced

Jackson Injured

A "pony" backfield, lighter, but faster than the starters, will see plenty of action before the season's close, is made up of quarterback Ken Pilarczyk, left half Bob Lane, right half Larry Kent, and fullback Jim Mason.

A quartet of backs are out with injuries, but should be ready to go before the end of the campaign. Most prominent among these is Carlos Jackson, fastest man on the squad, out with a shoulder injury. Others are Dave Monroe, John McCarthy, and Bill Shupe.

Two members of the freshman team have brothers now playing with the Falcon varsity. Kirk Fowler is a brother of guard Keith Fowler and frosh guard Dick Bruck is Harold Bruck's brother.

BG Athletic Books Are Still Available

The $2 athletic tickets will go on sale during the week preceding the Bowling Green-Toledo game, according to Don Cunningham, athletic ticket manager. These ticket books are good for football, basketball, and any other events.

Last year, 1,590 books were sold, and in this, the second year of their use, only 1,289 students bought them. The system was instituted for the convenience of students and the money thus acquired defers the tax payable on the share of students' activity fees which the athletic department receives, said Cunningham.

He lists as an advantage the fact that students can purchase tickets for all contests at one time. Fourteen games are scheduled this year on our home grounds.

Sports Personality

Green, All-Around Athlete, Also Scores High In Art Mark

By DON GETTER

Start out with a dash of paint, add a jigger of football, a touch of basketball, a bit of track, and add some swimming and ice skating for good measure, and you'll have Bowling Green senior tackle, Lester Green.

Likable Les hails from Chagrin Falls, Ohio, where he was a three-sport letter winner during his high school career.

Playing end on the football team for three years, and basketball and track, kept this athlete pretty busy during his pre-college days.

But not too busy to keep him from developing a great interest in art. Les is now majoring in art and hopes to go into commercial art work after he attains his master's degree.

Being a veteran of two years in the army, Les will not have his career interrupted and hopes to enter the University of Colorado next year for his graduate work.

Green won a best award in print, in the student show at Bowling Green last year. He also took honors in oil painting, water colors, and sculpturing.

LES GREEN

Les began his BG football career at end position in his freshman year, but then switched to guard, and later to the tackle spot.

This Falcon letterman believes that the new 60-minute game of football will increase injuries. And it will also limit the number of players who will see action during the course of the season.

Although Les did quite a bit of flying while in service he enjoyed the air trip to the Temple game very much. He stated that that is the best way to travel for a football trip of any distance. Going by bus on a long trip wears the players out and they are not up to par for the game. But going by air is much faster and is more comfortable.

Green is one of the Falcons' 60-minute men, and although he hurt his ankle in the Bradley game, he'll be able to go against Baldwin-Wallace Saturday.

Five Majorettes To Appear With Band

For the second straight year, The Bowling Green State University Marching Band will feature Drum Majorettes. Four freshmen and one transfer student will make their first appearance at the Baldwin-Wallace game.

The first home performance will be the Toledo game, one week from Saturday. According to Band Director Roy J. Weger, "The girls have had over a month's practice now, and are a fine twirling outfit and very sharp." He added "We plan to use them only when there is a need for them."

The five majorettes, none of whom were here last year, are Bonnie Princehorn, Oberlin; Marilyn Patton, Steubenville; Julia Holstein, Grove City, Pennsylvania; Marian LaReux, Sylvania; and Barbara DeGroff, Troy. All of these girls are freshmen except Miss Princehorn who is a transfer student from Baldwin-Wallace.

Cross Country High School Meet Set

Bowling Green State University will play host to a high school invitational cross country meet Saturday.

The meet, which is scheduled for 2:30 p.m., will be run in five flights. Five men from each of the ten schools invited will be split up into the separate flights.

Engraved certificates will be awarded to the top five schools. A trophy will be given to the first place team. The prep thin clads will run on a two-mile course.

The 10 teams entered are Toledo Waite, Lima Central, Columbus West, Worthington, Marion Harding, Springfield Public, Akron East, Cleveland West, Cleveland Catholic Latin, and Cleveland Rhodes.

APhiO Names Chairmen Other Clubs Elect Officers

Raymond Bertleson, president, has announced the Alpha Phi Omega committee chairmen for this year. Richard Traylor will head the loan fund; Gene Raynak, coat check; David Meeker, grass campaign; and Harry Thal, Book Store.

The Blood Bank, to be held Oct. 27, will be in charge of James Haskins; the Ugly Man-Ugly Woman contest during the Charity Drive will be supervised by Robert Salberg; and James Hersh and Robert Rice are co-chairmen of the Homecoming committee.

The Scouting committee is under the supervision of Charles Moffeld, Ronald Eiserling, and Robert Connelly is in charge of publicity.

The A Phi O Book Store is officially closed for the semester. All persons who did not pick up their money for books sold will receive checks through the mail, said Bertleson. Everything should be taken care of within two weeks. The unsold books will be stored until next semester.

Writers Have Honorary

"Sigma Tau Delta is a society for students with a yen to write," said Dr. Giles R. Floyd, chairman of the local chapter. "Members get the chance to try their wings, so to speak," he continued, "and to receive honest, constructive criticism."

The local chapter is part of a national organization which was founded at Nebraska State University located at Wayne, Neb. John Q. Owen, national executive secretary of the honorary, is a professor of English at the latter school. A national magazine, The Rectangle, is published twice yearly from the Nebraska campus. It is made up of prose contributions from the various other chapters.

"As well as the work done for the Rectangle," said Dr. Floyd, "members of Sigma Tau Delta on this campus contribute much to Eyas, the literary magazine published for student consumption at Bowling Green."

Membership of Sigma Tau Delta is restricted to majors or minors in English, although exceptions are made in special cases. Students are accepted from the junior-senior level as members of this honorary, and they must have at least a 3.5 average in English courses taken to date.

Students Make Trip

Five members of the University debate team and James Ross, coach of debate, attended a discussion of this year's intercollegiate topic at Ohio University, Friday.

The topic under discussion was, "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

Students who made the trip were Betty Idle, Delores Lehman, Stanley Kutler, Richard Marshner, and Dan Simon.

Open Meeting Held

All prospective members of Beta Pi Theta, local recognition society for French students, have been invited to an open meeting Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in Studio B of the Practical Arts Bldg.

Chester Wasilowski, president, said students must have at least a 3.0 average in French, and 2.5 or more in all academic work.

Group singing and games have been planned for entertainment.

Meeks Elected President

Rho Sigma Mu, the radio recognition society, recently announced the officers for 1953-54. They are Fred Meeks, president; David Foresman, vice - president; and Donald Friar, secretary-treasurer. Membership is restricted to junior and senior students in good standing. "The student must demonstrate, beyond call of duty, unusual interest and capabilities in the realization of the function and value of communication arts in society," said Sidney C. Stone, director of radio station WBGU.

Of last year's members, three are presently employed in radio work. They are Jack Mullen, WSPD - TV, Toledo; Lamont Greene, WLEC, Sandusky; and Walter Hoy, WEOL, Elyria.

Movies Feature Wilde, Bogart, And Derek

Two campus movies will be shown this week end in the main auditorium. Friday night at 7 and at 9 the story of the son of Robin Hood, "The Bandit of Sherwood Forest," will be shown. Cornel Wilde is the star, with Anita Louise, Jill Esmond, and Edgar Buchanan.

The hard-hitting, realistic movie, "Knock on Any Door," starring Humphrey Bogart and John Derek, will be shown Saturday night.

McDonalds Entertain BG Foreign Students

Pres. and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald entertained the foreign students enrolled here at the University at a tea in their home Sunday afternoon.

In the receiving line with Dr. and Mrs. McDonald were Barbara Fujitomo, past president of the campus chapter of the World Student Association, and Ruby Kim, present president of the Association.

E. T. Rodgers of Tiffin, president of the Board of Trustees of the University, was a guest at the tea.

There are 39 students from foreign countries enrolled at the University this fall.

President and Mrs. McDonald are planning a fraternity and sorority tea for Sunday, Oct. 25, at their home.

Foreigners Hold Party

Foreign students from the University held a party Sunday Oct. 4, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Waldo E. Steidtmann.

At their first social event of the year they welcomed 12 new members to their group, called "World Student Organization." Of the new members, five are from Hawaii, two from Greece, two from Guam and three from Canada.

Glee Club Picnic

The University Men's Glee Club held its annual picnic Wednesday evening at the city park.

Climaxing the picnic was a hot-dog barbecue with potato chips and cider.

Gene Davis, president, announced the picnic was accomplished through the united effort of the committee chairmen working with Dr. Kennedy. Other activities are being planned by the group.

Lutherans Discuss Managers

"You're Just the Manager," will be the topic of a group discussion at the Lutheran Students' Association meeting, Sunday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m. All interested students are invited to attend.

Phi Epsilon Elects Two

Two officers were elected at the meeting of Alpha Xi chapter, Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the Practice Apartment.

Sue Hartman was named corresponding secretary of the group and Donna Poland was elected historian, according to Eleanor Irvin, club president.

Party Planned

The Executive Committee of the Off-Campus Women's Organization met Tuesday, Oct. 6, to discuss plans for the year. During the week all independent off-campus women will be notified about joining the group.

A party is being planned so new girls may become acquainted with the group. The tentative date set for the party is Oct. 27.

PR Organizes Five Separate Groups

To become more effective and helpful, the public relations committee has organized sub-committees to carry out the various phases of public relations for Student Senate.

The sub-committee includes the Rally Committee whose function it is to help plan rallies, and with the Booster Club, help to make Bowling Green a more "spirited" school.

The Publicity Committee helps Senate with any publicity which it needs. This committee works along with the Election Committee to publicize elections. The Bulletin Board Committee is incorporated in this committee.

The Administration and Faculty Relations Committee's major function is to promote more understanding among students and faculty members. Another function of this committee is to promote better understanding and public relations between the community of Bowling Green and the University.

The Research Committee of the Public Relations Committee was organized to study the public relations methods used in other schools and to obtain ideas for new projects. They will also take part in poll-taking here at Bowling Green.

The Senate Relations Committee is a group organized to help the Senators realize their responsibility to the students, the faculty, and the administration.

Each of the Public Relations sub-committees needs three upper-class members.

A freshman sub-committee also is to be formed. Six positions are available on this committee. These members will work directly with all of the other Public Relations committees.

The first University entrance examination was required in 1924 in order to enter the teacher training curriculum.

Pinned: Gretchen Barnes, Alpha Chi Omega, to Nick Milet, Theta Chi alum.

Engaged: Barbara Shiller, Williams Hall, to Paul Richards.

Congratulations are in order to the approximately 100 girls who showed interest and formed the sister organization to Alpha Phi Omega, to all the upperclass women who pledged sororities, and to the large and spirited cheering sections at last week's football game (may they repeat their performance this week).

We have noticed a large downgrade on pinnings and engagements. Is it that we just don't hear about them or could it be that students can't think of romance while suffering from colds?

Comments on campus: Overheard from an opera goer last Sunday night: "You've seen one opera you've seen them all." By the way, if we don't list your pinning, engagement, or marriage, please turn them in to the B-G News office.

Coeds Call Johnston Hospital Their Home

Have you ever entertained the idea of "living" in a hospital? Probably not, but such a situation exists here on the campus at Bowling Green. The top floor at Johnston Hospital is home for 12 BG coeds. Mrs. Allen Midden-dorf, the former Lorna Raynak, is the housemother at the dorm. Quarters provided at the dorm house two or three per room depending upon the size of the room.

There is a small kitchen in which the students prepare light snacks and brew the ever-present pot of coffee. Students living there say that the central location of the dorm has its definite advantages, especially when bad weather rolls around. Medical assistance, should the need arise, can be obtained by walking downstairs, or falling as the case might be . . .

Clinic Tests 900; 225 Defects Found

More than 900 freshmen were given speech and hearing tests during orientation activities, according to Melvin Hyman, assistant professor of speech.

Of these, 25 per cent had from slight to severe speech defects. Of this 25 per cent with speech defects, 12 per cent had articulation disorders, 11 per cent had voice disorders, and 2 per cent had rhythm problems such as stuttering and hesitation. Three per cent had hearing losses.

These students are enrolled in guidance and research 121 and 122, courses offered by the speech department. Guidance and research 121 is for the more severe cases that require individual attention. Guidance and research 122 is for the less severe cases who are instructed in small class groups.

This semester 37 students are enrolled in the courses. Students earn two hours credit toward graduation.

Dr. Hyman stated that the purpose of the course is to help the student adjust to his problems while working toward speech which is intelligible, communicative, and as close to "normal" as possible.

Brand-new national survey shows college students prefer Luckies

Last year a survey was made in leading colleges throughout the country which showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.
